SHABBOS GUIDELINES FOR SNOW

- You must judge if it is safe for you to go to shul.
- Snow is not muktzah.
- Making a path in snow is not prohibited on Shabbos. However, shoveling snow is an issue of tircha yisaira (excessive exertion) which is not permitted on Shabbos unless there is an element of danger (i.e. icy sidewalks or danger for the elderly). Of course, if the eruv is down, snow cannot be shoveled in any event.
- Making snowballs or snowpeople on Shabbos falls in the category of Boneh which is not permitted.
- It is permissible to spread salt or Ice Melt on snow or ice on Shabbos.
- If there are power outages in the area, one must be concerned that the eruv is down, and carrying should be suspended. We hope this storm will not be like Hurricane Sandy. May we see the fulfillment of, "Ulichol B'nai Yisrael hoyo ohr bimoshosom" (And for all the children of Israel there was light in their dwellings). (Shemos 10:23) Have a wonderful Shabbos. Rabbi Yaakov Luban

INCLUSION DAY CAMP

On Tuesday, February 19th, 7 PM, at Congregation Ahavas Yisrael, 1587 Rt. 27 in Edison Meet with Yachad's National Director and New Jersey Regional Director, to discuss the possibility of forming a local area Jewish Summer Day Camp for high-functioning children with special needs. This could include children with ADHD, Asperger's Syndrome, Tourettes, OCD, Anxiety, Sensory Processing Disorder or other mild learning disabilities with social skills challenges and who would benefit from a more structured and supportive environment than is typically offered at day camp. This day camp program would be based on the Yachad model of inclusion, and the plan is to partner with an existing area day camp, therefore being able to utilize both the existing camp's infrastructure (ie. Pool, sports equipment, etc) and provide excellent social opportunities with other Jewish children in a natural setting. The camp would also offer some separate time for social skills training and other activities as appropriate, and will be led and guided by a director and counselors experienced in working with children who have special needs.

This meeting will help to determine the level of interest within our community for such a camp, as well as what the individual needs of families are, as every child is different. Therefore, if you are able to attend the meeting, please do so! We want everyone who may have interest to be represented. It would be helpful if you email (daycampmiddlesex@yahoo.com) to let us know if you plan to come so that we have enough seating, but please spread the word to anyone you know who may be interested.
