

Bli Neder Commitment to “Enhancing Our Tefillah Experience” in memory of ר' יוסף יצחק בן זאב הלוי, ע"ה, Joel Adler, a”h

- I will use my time in shul, from the beginning to the end of davening, to pray to Hashem as best as I can and will treat Hashem's house with the dignity, honor and respect it requires and deserves.
- I will do my very best not to talk at all, except to Hashem -- and just as importantly, not to listen to someone talking to me -- from the time davening starts until it ends. If someone attempts to engage me in conversation during davening, I will politely indicate that I prefer to converse after the davening has ended.
- If I need to talk, I will leave the shul in order to maintain the holiness and sanctity of the Tefillah and to ensure that I do not disturb anyone else in shul.
- I will do my very best to set the right example for the children in shul on how to conduct oneself in Hashem’s house.
